

Dowling

Innovation. Insight. Intellect.

QUINTIQ AUSTRALIA CHOOSES DOWLING CONSULTING

Melbourne, Australia. May 19th, 2008 -- Quintiq, a leading global provider of Advanced Planning and Scheduling (APS) solutions and Dowling Consulting, a Supply Chain consulting services firm based in Melbourne and Sydney, today announced a partnership agreement covering Quintiq software implementation services in the Australian region.

This agreement formalises the existing cooperation between the two companies, enabling them to deliver enhanced capabilities to their customers in Australia and opening new opportunities for Dowling and Quintiq.

Quintiq focuses on providing the most advanced planning, scheduling and supply chain optimization solutions for targeted markets. As the market leader in its chosen markets it provides solutions that significantly improve the main KPI's of its customers.

The Quintiq solution has been implemented at a wide range of logistics, transportation, field service, manufacturing, metal and other companies in Europe and around the world. The new partner arrangement builds on this success, enabling Dowling and Quintiq to offer solutions in planning, scheduling, rostering and logistics to Australian companies locally and on a global scale.

About Quintiq. Quintiq provides advanced planning, scheduling and supply chain management solutions. The fast-growing Dutch company, established in 1997, offers software for planning and optimizing complex business processes throughout the enterprise. Quintiq is one of the fastest growing technology companies in Europe, and industry analyst Gartner has acknowledged Quintiq for its innovative products and market presence. The company has its head office in the Netherlands and further subsidiaries in Germany, the UK, Malaysia, China, the USA, and Australia.

More information is available at www.quintiq.com.

For more information, please contact:

Quintiq, Paul Shepherd, Director, E-mail: paul.shepherd@quintiq.com;

Dowling, Ric Hallgren, General Manager, E-mail: ric.hallgren@dowlingconsulting.biz